

Bethany Carlson

Casting Assistant

Bethany's background is in international finance, scientific research, teaching mathematics to artists - and a passion for film.

Bethany's career started as a NASA researcher on a project nicknamed Fish In Space. This naturally led to everything from risk management for the Swedish Government to leading desert treks in Peru. And casting.

She has worked as a casting assistant on principal and background open call casting on the feature film Ithaca. Bethany has also helped cast principal roles for feature film Kicked By Grace, and scouted real families for Williamsburg Tourism commercials.

When not casting, Bethany runs Kickstarter and Indiegogo campaigns for authors, musicians, and filmmakers. She helps established and first-time authors publish the manuscripts that publishers have foolishly overlooked. She teaches Algebra II to art students. Bethany is a screenwriter and is on the Board of WriterHouse.
