

Michael Duni

Team Member

---

Since attending his first film camp ten years ago, Michael Duni has immersed himself in the film industry; directing, casting, and creating content non-stop. In 2011 Michael graduated from VCUarts Cinema program with a focus in producing. Shortly after, he began collaborating with Erica Arvold, CSA to assist in casting multiple feature films such as Big Stone Gap, Ithaca, Hot Air, Coming Through the Rye, and Josephine. His other casting work includes television series for AMC, ABC, and Netflix, as well as national commercials and short form projects.

He has directed and served as director of photography for five award winning short films, as well as multiple commercials and international music videos. Michael continues to work on the east coast, particularly in the Mid-Atlantic, helping to cultivate and expand filmmaking opportunities in the region.
